PREFACE

September 1, 1921.

The following Tables of Organization have been reprinted at The General Service Schools in order to provide all concerned with a set of organization tables, in fairly compact form, covering the units generally used as the basis of instruction—the infantry and cavalry divisions.

The War Department, War Strength, Tables of Organization, 1921, have been followed. A number of explanatory notes have been added for the division and its various units. Tables 133W to 139W inclusive, 155-mm. Motorized Howitzer Regiment, and Tables A and B, Chemical Company and Motorized Chemical Ammunition Train follow the normal divisional tables since these units may frequently be attached to a division. Of these the chemical company (Table A) and the chemical ammunition train (Table B) are units assumed for convenience of instruction at these Schools. Chemical ammunition trains are assumed to be army units, consisting of a train headquarters and three battalions of four motorized transport companies each. When desired, chemical ammunition trains may be attached to corps or divisions at the rate usually of one battalion per infantry division—or one battalion less the third company (155-mm. ammunition), or the fourth company (persistent gases), or both, as the case may be.

As they stand these tables will be used in the preparation and solution of all problems and exercises in The School of the Line pending the issue of the new tables of organization by the War Department.

As a part of each table there has been added the road spaces occupied by the command, considered under normal conditions. These are followed by a statement of the rates of march under ordinary circumstances. In the use of the road spaces and rates of march care must be taken to consider the attending circumstances, and one must not be led into the habit of continually using a certain road space and certain rate of march merely as a rule of thumb. It must be recognized that information given under these heads is general only, and is always quite flexible. Particularly is this true for the rates of march. The rates given may be exceeded in short marches, and probably would not be maintained for extended marches.

H. E. ELY,
Commandant.

	:	Roads	:	Roads	:	Roads
Infantry	:	2½	:	2	:	1½
(Applies to all foot troops, it being understood that small units can - when necessary - move more rapidly for short distances. Inf rate at night 2 miles per hour, across country 1½.

Field Artillery	:	3½	:	3	:	2½
(Applies to all field artillery units, it being understood that small units can - when necessary - move more rapidly.

ANIMAL DRAWN ELEMENTS	::	3½	:	3	:	2½
CARS & MOTORCYCLES.	:	20	:	15	:	8
TRUCKS	:	8	:	6	:	4

- Notes 1 Truck rates will be materially lowered by darkness (especially when lights are prohibited), fog, excessive dust, etc. Night rate without lights on foot roads, same as above for poor roads.
- 2 Single motor vehicles, or small motorized commands, can - depending on kinds of vehicles - under ordinary conditions move at rates greater than those given above, which are for average marches on roads of the character indicated.

AN APPROVED SOLUTION; REQUIREMENT (a).
Verbally.

"A Red battalion is known to be at Dumfries (4 miles north of here). No other Red troops are within a day's march.

Our battalion will remain in Quantico overnight. Our company, with one platoon Co D attached, will establish the outpost, with line of resistance along this ridge. (Indicating ridge along the road between School and General's quarters). A platoon of Co B has been assigned as Provost Guard in the town of Quantico, and will establish a line of observation along LITTLE CREEK south of the R F & P tracks.

In event of attack, the line of resistance will be held.

This platoon, with attached machine gun section, as Support No 1, will outpost and hold the right support area. Our right boundary is the railroad track (exclusive) and our left boundary the dry stream bed northwest of Quarters 21 and the bridge on the unimproved road over LITTLE CREEK. (both inclusive).

The line of observation will be along the near bank of LITTLE CREEK.

The 1st Sec will establish the line of outguards along the bluff on this side of the creek, with a sentry squad near the tracks and one near the bridge on the unimproved road. The remaining squad will be posted in two cossack posts, one just below the negro school and one about 200 yards to the right of the left sentry squad. The automatic rifle will be with the left cossack post.

The platoon less the 1st Sec will remain on the line of resistance in the School building. (pointing).

The machine guns will be sited so as to cover the draws leading toward the School from the east and north.

A visiting patrol from the right sentry squad will maintain connection with the cossack post on its left once every half hour.

A patrol from the support will visit all outguards of our platoon: and the adjacent outguards of the 1st Plat Co B and of the 2d Plat of our own company once every hour.

I will be at the School.

Are there any questions?

Carry out your orders."

5th class ----- 3
6th class ----- 3

^gNot armed with the rifle. (x).
^hNot armed with the sabre. (x).
ⁱHorse leaders in the machine rifle platoon are armed with the rifle. (x).
^jAssumed.

Armament:
All members of the troop are armed with the pistol, and 21 rounds of pistol ammunition. (x)
All armed with the rifle carry 90 rounds of rifle ammunition. (x)

Machine rifle platoon. (x)
Gunners (corporal and rated private), 160 rounds of rifle ammunition (carried in magazines in belt), 1 spare part case. 1 ammunition filler.

Assistant and carriers:
400 rounds of rifle ammunition (carried in magazines in the belt) and bandoleer. 1 magazine filler.

Led horse:
1 automatic rifle (temporary) and extra barrel. 480 rounds of rifle ammunition (carried in magazines).

Flares and marking panels
Issued as needed. (x)

The troop headquarters detachment on the march is divided as follows generally:
At the head of the column:
1 first sergeant.
1 stable sergeant (carries guidon and assumes charge of led horses).
2 buglers.
4 messengers.

8 enlisted men. Road space 8 yards.

At rear of column:
1 mess sergeant.
3 cooks.
3 horseshoers.
1 saddler.

8 enlisted men and 8 led horses. Road space 16 yards.

With troop train:
1 supply sergeant.
As specially ordered, usually with rear echelon:
1 corporal (troop clerk).
The cooking outfit contains:
2 grates.
1 coffee boiler.
Pots.
Bake pans.
Cooking utensils.
Butchering utensils.

The machine gun squad is composed of two gun crews, No. 1 and No. 2, each consisting of a gunner, an assistant, an ammunition carrier, a horseholder and a pack horse.

The squad is formed as follows:
The corporal gunner and the private gunner form a set of twos in front, the corporal on the left.
Gun crew No. 1 forms a set of fours behind the gunners as follows:

No. 1 is the pack horse behind the private gunner.
No. 2 is the horseholder behind the corporal gunner.
No. 3 is the assistant gunner.
No. 4 is the carrier.

Gun crew No. 2 is similarly formed behind Gun crew No. 1 at 4 feet distance.

The machine rifle platoon in column of fours is a formation in which the three squads form a column, the leading squad being the base, the second and third squads following, all in column of fours with 4 feet distance throughout the column.

The automatic rifle, extra barrel, and 480 rounds of ammunition are carried on the led horse. The gunner carries 160 rounds of ammunition and each assistant 400 rounds, making a total in the squad of 1440 rounds—all in magazines. When necessary, extra ammunition in bandoleers can be carried on the led horse, or issued to and carried by the other members of the platoon. (Last paragraph assumed in the absence of definite information.)

REMARKS
*Insert numerical designation of the train or the battalion.

†This is a unit assumed solely for convenience of instruction at the General Service Schools. Chemical Ammunition Trains are assumed to be army units. When desired they may be specified to be attached to army corps or to divisions, usually at the rate of one battalion (or one battalion less the 3d or 4th companies) per division.

^cOrganized same as Table 157W, War Dept., March 7, 1921, omitting the transport section.

^bPersonnel same as the unit prescribed in Remark X, Table 159W, War Dept., March 7, 1921.

^cOrganized same as Table 157W, War Department, March 7, 1921.

^dSame as Table 156W, War Dept., March 7, 1921.

^eCargo Capacity: 2 transport companies of each battalion are assumed to carry the following total complete rounds of ammunition for the 2 companies (75-mm. and 3-inch Stokes mortar):

75-mm. gun:—5280 gas (480 BA, 2880 CG, 1440 DA, 480 HS); 2880 smoke WP; 48 incendiary; 108 liquid smoke (for adjusting gas shell).

3-inch Stokes mortar: 2070 smoke WP (carried on 6 trucks of first transport company).

The 3d transport company of each battalion is assumed to carry 155-mm. howitzer ammunition as follows (complete rounds):

155-mm. howitzer: 648 gas (72 BA, 72 CA, 360 CG, 72 DA, 72 HS); 240 smoke WP; 60 incendiary; 12 liquid smoke (for adjusting gas shell).

The 4th transport company of each battalion is assumed to carry persistent gases only, as follows (complete rounds):

75-mm. gun (carried on 7 trucks): 1344 gas (144 CA, 1200 HS); 42 liquid smoke (for adjusting gas shell).

155-mm. howitzer (carried on 17 trucks): 668 gas (72 CA, 596 HS); 12 liquid smoke (for adjusting gas shell).
